Statement on GSI communications

PRESS RELEASE

In response to the article in the Sunday edition of Kathimerini (4 October 2026) by Vasilis Nedos and Manolis Kostidis on the Greece–Cyprus electricity interconnection project, Nexans, as the contractor for the cable system of the Great Sea Interconnector (GSI), categorically denies having had or planning to have any contact with the Turkish authorities about the project's upcoming seabed surveys.

Nexans clarifies that its coordination and cooperation for the upcoming works are conducted strictly with the project promoter and the Greek and Cypriot authorities, as stipulated in its contract. As a specialist industrial contractor, Nexans provides expertise in the design, manufacture, and installation of subsea cable systems. It does not take positions on political or geopolitical matters relating to the project.

Nexans will continue to work closely with its customer to support the project in accordance with its contractual obligations and applicable legal requirements.

About Nexans

Nexans is the global pure player in sustainable electrification, building the essential systems that power the world's transition to a connected, resilient, and low-carbon future. From offshore and onshore renewable energies to smart cities and homes, Nexans designs and delivers advanced cable solutions, accessories and services that electrify progress safely, efficiently, and sustainably.
With over 140 years of history, through three core businesses: PWR Transmission, PWR Grid, and PWR Connect, Nexans blends deep industry expertise with cutting-edge innovation to accelerate the energy transition, and better meet its customers' needs. Its unique E3 model, focused on Environment, Economy and Engagement, drives every action, aligning performance with purpose.
Nexans operates in 39 countries with 12,830 people and generated €6.1 billion in standard sales in 2025. Nexans is committed to Net-Zero emissions by 2050 aligned with the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) and expanding energy access through the Fondation Nexans.

Nexans is listed on Euronext Paris, Compartment A.
www.nexans.com | #ElectrifyTheFuture

Contacts:

Communication

Mael Evin (Havas Paris)
Tel.: +33 (0)6 44 12 14 91
nexans_h@havas.com

Maellys Leostic
maellys.leostic@nexans.com

Olivier Daban
olivier.daban@nexans.com

Investor relations

Audrey Bourgeois
Tel.: +33 (0)1 78 15 00 43
audrey.bourgeois@nexans.com